Session On Relevance of Needonomics for Vikshit Bharat

Jinvani Management College organized an insightful academic session on “Relevance of Needonomics for Vikshit Bharat” delivered by Dr. Madan Mohan Goel a renowned economist and the propounded of the concept of Needonomics. The session aimed to create awareness among students about sustainable and value based economic development.

Dr. Goel explained the Needonomics focuses on fulfilling real human needs rather than promoting unlimited wants and excessive consumption. He highlighted how this approach can help India achieve the vision of Vikshit Bharat by 2047 through balanced growth, ethical decision-making and responsible use of resources.

Dr. Goel encouraged students to adopt moral values, social responsibility and always memorize lines of Geeta.

The Session was interactive and thought-provoking, inspiring students to rethink modern economic practices. It concluded with a strong message that adopting Needonomics can lead to a more inclusive, sustainable and developed India.

Workshop on Financial Empowerment

Jinvani Management College (JMC) successfully organized an informative seminar aimed at building awareness, clarity, and confidence in smart investing among students. The seminar was conducted in collaboration with AMFI (Association of Mutual Funds in India) and SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India), two prominent regulatory and educational bodies in the financial sector.

The primary objective of the seminar was to educate students about the importance of informed investment decisions and to promote financial literacy. The session focused on key aspects such as basics of mutual funds, types of investment options, risk and return concepts, the power of compounding, and the importance of long-term financial planning.

The resource persons provided valuable insights into how young investors can begin their investment journey wisely. They also clarified common misconceptions about stock markets and mutual funds, emphasizing safe and regulated investment practices under SEBI guidelines. Interactive discussions and real-life examples made the session engaging and easy to understand for the participants.

Students actively participated in the seminar by asking questions and sharing their views, which reflected their keen interest in understanding financial planning at an early stage. The session not only enhanced their financial knowledge but also encouraged responsible and smart investing habits.

The college management expressed gratitude to AMFI and SEBI representatives for conducting such a meaningful and educational program. This seminar proved to be a significant step toward empowering students with financial awareness and preparing them for a financially secure future.

JMC continues to organize such academic and practical learning initiatives to ensure the holistic development of its students
